

Berlon Hamilton
Director, Supplier Diversity
Cleveland Clinic

Berlon Hamilton currently serves as Director of Supplier Diversity for Cleveland Clinic. In this role, Berlon is responsible for promoting, driving and executing supplier diversity inclusion across Cleveland Clinic's health system. Mr. Hamilton has over 20 years of experience in Procurement, Business Development, stakeholder management and Supplier Diversity.

Berlon's supplier diversity and supply chain experience spans across various industries to include telecommunications, healthcare and gas utilities. His tireless efforts to advocate and foster relationships for businesses across multiple industries, creating growth opportunities for those organizations.

Berlon's influence has been recognized by his peers and advocacy organizations receiving multiple honors for supplier diversity, including; Top 50 Corporations for multi-cultural business opportunities by DiversityBusiness.com; CEO Leadership excellence award from the U.S. Department of Commerce-Minority Business Development Agency and; Supplier Diversity Champion of the year by DiversityBusiness.com.

Berlon was also named in the "Top 100 Under 50 Diverse Executives & Emerging Leaders" by Diversity MBA Magazine in 2012, and "100 Men Impacting Supplier Diversity" by Minority Business News "MBNUSA" in 2006.

Berlon earned a Bachelor of Business Administration and a Master of Business Administration from Jackson State University.

He obtained a Certificate in Supply Chain Management from DePaul University. He is also a Certified Professional in Supplier Diversity (CPSD).